

Sexual Harassment

Our network takes a zero tolerance approach. Because any incident can impact people's lives.

Rubbing against someone, touching someone inappropriately, staring intrusively, making unsolicited remarks, revealing private body parts, sending or showing sexual content and taking photos under someone's clothes.

It's all sexual harassment. It's all serious to us.

See it or experience it, text British Transport Police on 61016. In an emergency always dial 999.

Aware of someone who is doing this and want to remain anonymous?

Call the railway's sexual harassment line on 0800 783 0137
